The everlasting kicker found in this and every other town may be interested to know that the original kicker, in a metaphorical sense, is mentioned in the first book of Samuel, second chapter twenty-ninth verse, where a man of God said unto Eli, "Wherefore kick ye at my sacrifice and mine offering?"—Ex.

Node Babcock left on Monday for Wauseon, Ohio, where he has accepted a position as pitcher for an independent ball team of that place. My boy was taken with a disease resembling bloody flux. The first thing I thought of was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. I will answer any inquiries regarding it when stamp is enclosed. I refer to any county official as to my reliability. Wm. Roach, J. P., Primory, Campbell Co., Tenn. For sale by Will Lennon.

The local aggregation of base ball-ists went to Brown City last Monday to play the first of a series of three games with the nine of that town, for the championship of the two places and for $15 each game. Yale got hold of the chilly end of the situation to the tune of 21 to 27. An unintentional mistake of the umpire in the fourth inning yielded seven runs for Brown City which otherwise wouldn't have occurred. The mistake was costly but nobody kicks as it was made honestly. The next game will be played on Friday and will be chuck full of interest.

An interesting law suit has been occupying the attention of Yale citizens this week. The case is brought by Nicholas Owens to recover payment of a joint note given by W. F. Perkins, formerly pastor of the M. P. church in Yale, and Seth G. Spencer, a farmer living near North Branch. Harvey Tappan, attorney, appeared for plaintiff and Wm. Gowan, of Yale, and C. F. Gates, of North Branch appeared for Seth G. Spencer. Three days were occupied by the attorneys in making objections and taking testimony. Jas. Hisey was the justice in the case and the jury consisted of James Wallace, Lewis Armstrong, J. H. High, W. H. Harris, Wm. Cavanagh, and David G. Williams, all good men. Thursday evening, after the jury had been out about one hour, a verdict for $123 was brought in for plaintiff. Time and space will not allow of further explanation in this matter.

The spectators at the law suit this week were treated to an excellent display of oratory, sarcastical remarks, and a wonderful amount of explanation of the laws of the land, free of charge, by an out-of-town attorney. He appeared in the case in behalf of one of the defendants and every time his majesty arose and proceeded to talk, how the crowd would brighten up, take in every word and action, and while oratory hung like a dense fog all around the court room.

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This one small bottle cured them all and he and some left which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewiston, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Will Lennon.

The Boston Traveler says that a few weeks ago a Maine young man bought a pair of socks containing a note saying the writer was an employee of the Kenosha (Wis.) knitting works and wanted a good husband. She gave her name and requested the buyer, if an unmarried man to write with a view to matrimony. The young man who took the note considered the matter in all its phases and decided to write to the girl. He did. Awaiting the answer with considerable anxiety he at last was rewarded with a curt letter stating that the girl was now the mother of two children and had been married four years, and the letter he had answered had been written ever so long ago. It was a "sock" dollager, and the young man hunted for a solution. He found it. The merchant of whom he had bought the socks did not advertise.
